

Spring 2009

Book Review

Speaking For Spot

(Trafalgar Square; 2008)

By Dr. Nancy Kay

Veterinarian Dr. Nancy Kay has put her 20-plus years of working with dogs and people to excellent use compiling a book that will assist dog guardians when seeking answers to often-times confusing veterinary medical questions. With real-life examples accompanied by fun illustrations, Kay provides helpful advice on topics such as: How do I go about telling my vet I'd like a second opinion? Does my dog really need to be vaccinated? When's the right time to euthanize my ailing, aged, or injured dog? Should I put my dog through treatment for cancer? Is pet insurance really necessary? Offering expert advice, delivered with warmth and humour, Speaking For Spot deserves a home with every dog-inclusive family.